<ul> <li>Which unsavoury organisation did you work with?</li> <li>Which lawman remembers your face?</li> <li>At what point did you realize you'd gone too far?</li> </ul>		Fast Hands	When you roll Initiative , roll 2D3 instead and add the higher to your Savvy . If the party is Surprised , you can still act on your first Turn .
	<ul> <li>How did you wriggle free? Are you off the hook?</li> <li>Which old friend would help you with something illegal if you asked nicely?</li> </ul>	Martial Art	When you Attack unarmed, you do not roll Against the Odds . Your unarmed attacks have Defensive .
Time Behind Bars	<ul> <li>What were you convicted for? Did you do it?</li> <li>What uncommon skills did you learn?</li> <li>What friends did you make?</li> <li>What enemies did you make?</li> <li>Where did you serve your sentence? How long was it?</li> </ul>	True Grit	Once per Session , you may draw on your inner resolve to roll a Stat Check or Attack with the Upper Hand , using your Grit instead of the normal Stat.
